Stampede Kicks Off Fall 2011 Big Book of AV Tour in Atlanta

Tour Brings Big Book of AV Alive Through Training Sessions and Seminars for New and Exclusive Products

Amherst, NY, September 08, 2011 — Stampede, the leading value-added distributor of professional audio video (ProAV) solutions, is kicking off their fall line-up of the Big Book of AV Tour in Atlanta, September 22 at The Tabernacle.

“These events are really what bring our Big Book of AV alive for our dealers,” said Kevin Kelly, Stampede president and COO. “With a 25 percent larger book this year, we have more training and seminars available from our vendors. We expect more than 30 vendors to exhibit in Atlanta, all providing our dealers with valuable training and education on elite products.”

The tour will feature training from Paul Dragos, Sony Video Conferencing director of engineering, on the elite line of products and exciting things to come from Sony. “Being the exclusive distributor and having the Sony Video Conferencing team on board for every tour date allows our dealers to gain the needed knowledge about such a strong product line,” stated Kelly. Other lines to be featured include NEC, Optoma, Samsung, Sharp, Mitsubishi and Lumens.
